ABOUT THE SPEAKER:

Mandee Hamann, ScreenStrong Ambassador, is a businesswoman and former Early Childhood/Elementary pastor with an additional 10+ years of youth ministry experience alongside her husband, Jeremy.

After their own family struggled with toxic screen issues, Mandee became a ScreenStrong Ambassador and eventually joined the ScreenStrong staff as Marketing Director & speaker. She is committed to empowering parents and caregivers to rethink screens, reclaim kids and reconnect families.

She considers herself a "mom with a screen story" who wants to help others see the same results her family did. She believes there is so much hope around this topic.

Mandee lives in Iowa with her husband and three teenagers.
